PLANT-QUARANTINE IMPORT RESTRICTIONS

OF THE

REPUBLIC OF ARGENTINA

Printing Requirements on Wraps of Imported
Fruits Abolished

A Government Decree of August 22, 1942, abolished the requirements that waterproof tissue paper wraps of imported apples, pears, oranges, tangerines, grapefruit, and lemons must carry the name of the grower, the packing company, or the exporter, as well as the country of origin. (See page 11, BEPQ--426.)
